TOWER BLOCKS GIVEN GREEN LIGHT

HIGH-RISE: A computer-generated image of the proposed development in Cambridge Road

Residents get priority to at least 49 of 274 new homes in Barking

A PROJECT to build four interlinked residential tower blocks in Barking is set to go ahead after approval from Barking and Dagenham Council.

It will deliver 274 homes on a site in Cambridge Road as part of plans for the regeneration of Barking town centre.

Swan Housing Group's project was approved by the council's development control board and will be allowed to begin subject to a stage two referral to the Mayor of London.

A spokeswoman for Swan said that at least 49 homes in the project will be shared ownership homes with priority for residents from the borough.

She added that the project is expected to be supported by a loan from the Barking Housing Zone that was granted by the Mayor of London.

Geoff Pearce, Swan's executive director of development and regeneration, said: "We are delighted that the planning committee have granted consent to this landmark scheme which will bring a long vacant site back into use whilst delivering high quality architecture."

"We are looking forward to working with our partners to contribute to the exciting regeneration that is happening in Barking and Dagenham."

The project was designed by architects Studio Egret West and will be constructed by NU living, Swan Group's construction business.

Councillor Cameron Geddes, cabinet member for regeneration, said: "This is one of the cornerstones of our Housing Zone scheme and will help boost the supply of quality homes in the town and will further add to the borough's housing mix."

"I'm delighted that the agreement includes a commitment to local labour and local suppliers allowing residents and businesses in the borough to benefit from the proposed development."

Council launches awards celebrating inspirational women

BARKING and Dagenham Council has launched awards that celebrate the role of inspirational women and their achievements.

The 2016 Women's Empowerment Awards are set to take place as part of the borough's second Women's Empowerment month.

The awards mark the achievements of the borough's women across nine different categories, with an overall Woman of the Year selected from category winners.

During the month-long celebration the council will also launch a Women and Gender Equality Charter.

A council spokesman said that it is believed to be the first of its kind and sets out the council's commitment to ensuring that women have the same chances to succeed as men in the borough.

Cllr Darren Rodwell, leader of the council, said: "Women have been pillars in our community in the past and they continue to play crucial roles in our borough today."

"Our borough's history is full of strong and determined women who stood for women's rights, from Elizabeth Fry to Mary Wollstonecraft, and the Ford machinists who have been immortalised in Made in Dagenham."

"Today we can be proud of our borough's women and we should rightly celebrate the different roles they play in helping to build pride, respect and cohesion across Barking and Dagenham."

Nominations for the awards are open until Monday, February 15 with full details available at www.lbbd.gov.uk/wem.

The categories include: Mum/Carer of the Year, Female Volunteer, Business Woman, Female Adult Learner and Woman of Courage, as well as Young Woman of the Year and Young Achiever.

Doctors on strike

PICKET: Members of King George medical staff on strike over Government's proposed changes to working conditions

They were taking part in the strike action, which took place at hospitals across the country and began at 8am on Tuesday, after a dispute between the British Medical Association and the Government over a new contract.

Matthew Hopkins, chief executive of Barking, Havering and Redbridge University Hospitals Trust, said that its priority during the day had been to "provide high standards of patient care and safety at all times."

He added that consultant and ward managers had worked closely with operational teams to ensure contingency plans were in place.

Mr Hopkins said: "Junior doctors are a very important part of our multi-disciplinary teams and we value the enormous contribution they make to patient care."

"I would like to thank our staff for their tireless efforts, and our patients and visitors for their understanding and support."

Strike action concluded at 8am on Wednesday.

Police seek two men who attacked couple

DETECTIVES are appealing for information after a couple were set upon in Dagenham.

They were making their way home from a night out on December 12 when the incident took place in Whalebone Lane South, near the Lara Grill restaurant.

At around 11.15pm, they were approached by two men and one of the men attempted to make conversation.

As this was happening, the other was filming the exchange.

The 59-year-old male victim told the pair to leave them alone, but his wife, 52, was pushed by one of the suspects.

When her husband intervened the suspect punched him in the eye, causing him to fall to the floor.

The suspect continued to hit him in the face while he was on the floor causing cuts and bruising to his face.

Members of the public came to assist the victim and pulled the suspect away.

Both suspects then fled the scene through a nearby Iceland car park.

Police officers and the London Ambulance Service was called to the scene, and the victim was taken to hospital and has since been discharged.

A spokesperson for the Met Police said that the parties were not known to each other and there was no apparent motive for the assault.

The suspect who filmed the incident is described as a white man, around 5ft 11ins tall of stocky build with short cropped brown hair.

Suspect two, who is thought to have assaulted the victim, is white, around 21 years old and 5ft 9ins tall with a slight stocky build. He was wearing a striped t-shirt and carrying a bag.

There have been no arrests. Detectives from Barking and Dagenham CID are investigating.

DC Babu Sreedharan, of Barking and Dagenham CID, said: "This was an unprovoked attack on a couple who were coming home after enjoying a night out."

"The fact one of the suspects was filming the assault suggests the pair were planning to do this and may have approached others."

"The victim attended hospital and has now recovered from his injuries but it has left him traumatised and scared to walk in the area."

"Some of those who helped the victims have not come forward and we would like to speak to them as part of the investigation."

Witnesses or anyone with information is asked to call Barking and Dagenham CID on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111 quoting 5120890/15.

Honda shows its sporting pedigree

By Peter Keenan

THIS is one motor that can justly claim to be a good sport.

Super sleek with glitzy body kit and flowing lines the Honda Civic Sport looks the part – and with a dynamic 1.6-litre diesel engine calling the shots it has the power to impress without breaking the bank when it comes to running costs.

Gone are the days when diesels were noisy and smelly with all the style and charisma of a tractor.

This oil burner, linked to a smooth-shifting six-speed manual gearbox, provides rush with hush propelling the Civic Sport to 62mph from a standing start in a shade over 10 seconds on its way to a claimed top speed of 129mph.

Average fuel consumption of 70-plus miles per gallon and tax-busting emissions are achieved with the help of stop-start technology and an ECON button which adjusts throttle response, as well as the car's use of the air conditioning system to keep cash outlay to a minimum.

The lack of any discernible sound, apart from a vague rumble when pedal is pressed to metal managed to fool my dad into thinking the car we were in was a petrol model – he refused to believe it was a diesel until I showed him the fuel filler cap with the leg-end printed in capitals.

The exterior also failed to give him a decent steer as it was too sporty for his idea of what an oil burner should be.

SLEEK: Honda Civic 1.6 i-DTEC Sport Navi

The Civic Sport looks glued to the road and features styling including integrated daytime running lights, a natty mesh grille, an aerodynamic front bumper, beautiful black alloys plus a colour-coded rear spoiler.

The last mentioned in that list provides my one quibble with the Civic as, despite looking great from the outside, it obstructs the driver's view by cutting the tailgate window in half.

But Honda do fit a reversing camera as standard which helps to compensate, especially when it comes to backing into tight car parking spots.

The cabin continues the ultra-modern theme of the exterior so the tech-savvy will be drooling over Honda's Connect infotainment system, designed to get the best from Android smartphones while Apple users can hook up via bluetooth.

Despite the hunkered down sports car appearance there is a practical amount of space provided with the boot able to cope with 477 litres expanding to a maximum of 1,378 litres with the rear seats lowered.

The car catered for five adults without too much fuss and little in the way of complaints, although the clever hidden rear door handles left some attempting to access the back seats via the front doors.

The car is fitted with the usual suspects to help prevent or mitigate accidents.

My test car featured a £600 Driver Assistance Safety Pack which includes blind spot monitoring, lane departure warning, collision warning and traffic sign recognition – all useful to have.

The driving experience is enjoyable as the suspension is firm without shaking any bones ensuring a decent ride, while the traction system helps the car's handling giving good levels of grip and little body roll when cornering.

It is the final ingredient in a tasty compact family hatchback recipe.

Late Jelavic strike sees Hammers through in FA Cup

West Ham United

West Ham United 1
Wolverhampton Wanderers 0
FA Cup Third Round
Brian Jeeves reporting
from Upton Park

CROATIAN striker Nikica Jelavic produced a late moment of magic as West Ham overcame resolute Wolves to make FA Cup progress at Upton Park.

Though West Ham sat just four points outside the Champions League places, the cup perhaps offers the club and its loyal fans the best hope of success this season.

Wolves arrived in east London in confident mood. Despite occupying a mid-table position in the Championship, Kenny Jackett's men had picked up maximum points over the festive season and are now looking like play-off contenders.

The hosts had an early let-off when Rajiv Van La Parra's centre fizzed dangerously across the face of goal, while Conor Coady was unable to profit from Dominic Iorfa's toil as Wolves probed for a quickfire opener.

It was proving to be a fairly flat opening period with the Hammers struggling to make any headway.

Mauro Zarate finally offered a threat, finding Carl Ikeme's midriff, while Pedro Obiang tested the Wolves keeper with a deflected effort from distance.

Michail Antonio was next to try his luck for the home side, but Wolves skipper Danny Batth moved quickly to defuse the situation as the former Nottingham Forest man looked set to pounce from close range.

Then just before the break Ikeme produced a superb one-handed save to keep out Carl Jenkinson's piledriver as West Ham began to impose themselves.

Jenkinson was at it again immediately after the break. This time the backpedaling Ikeme was just about able to cling on to the Arsenal loanee's wickedly looping centre but with little or no room for error. Wolves were dealt a blow when Bjorn Sigurdarson appeared to collapse unchallenged.

The Icelandic striker was carried off after a lengthy stoppage and it was later revealed by boss Jackett that the problem had flared up in his back.

This was particularly cruel on the visitors' frontman who had only recently returned from a long absence.

Meanwhile James Collins had to react quickly as substitute Adam Le Fondre looked to nip in and profit for the visitors.

The introduction of Hammers substitute Dimitri Payet lifted the Boleyn faithful, who to that point had been subdued. The contest seemed to be drifting to a dreary conclusion. Michal Zyro's goalbound effort was gratefully gathered by Hammers keeper Darren Randolph.

The home side responded, but Pedro Obiang's curling attempt did little to trouble Ikeme, while Payet's crisp dead-ball strike was just too high.

But with time running out the hosts grabbed the lead with a wonderfully crystallised moment that was out of context with what had gone before.

Andy Carroll's neat flick picked out Jelavic, and the Croatian striker sent a terrific cushioned volley beyond Ikeme for his first goal in Hammers colours.

Carroll fired high and wide as West Ham looked to put the outcome beyond reasonable doubt, while Le Fondre passed up a glorious opportunity in stoppage time to earn the visitors a Molineux replay, scuffing horribly wide after finding room in the Hammers static rearguard.

Speaking after the game, Hammers chief Slaven Bilic said: "It's the FA Cup, often it's very tough, even when you play against teams that are two or three levels below you.

"I've seen a lot. I've lost a game here against Wrexham. So, well done to the lads, and we played against a team that haven't conceded in three games recently. They have had three wins, one against the leaders. They were very stubborn, very resilient.

"We were patient, we didn't lose our shape. We changed our system because we thought we needed an extra body in the box. We put Andy [Carroll] on, and as usual he made a big impact, helping Jela score a wonderful goal."

When asked if he'd started to believe Wolves had earned a replay, Bilic said: "Yes, we were ready to play another game because I didn't know that we would score, I was hoping.

"It wasn't the Alamo to be fair, but if one team was looking to do it in one game and trying to win, that was us. We got our reward. We scored a great goal and there were no complaints from their side. I think it was deserved."

Disappointed Wolves boss Jackett said: "I felt it was a spirited performance from our players, very resolute.

"In the second half we were probably more comfortable than we were in the first. We were working hard to get up the pitch and take the game to West Ham. We couldn't find that goal though, and then ultimately it has cost us because they've had one clear cut chance. You know with the quality they have that they are going to finish it."

West Ham now embark on two away fixtures in the Barclays Premier League, visiting AFC Bournemouth on Tuesday (7.45pm) before making the long journey north to face Newcastle United at St James' Park on Saturday January 16 (3pm).

Non-league round-up

Thurrock fight back

By Brian Jeeves

MICHAEL Toner hit a brace as Thurrock recovered from a goal behind to see off Heybridge Swifts in their Ryman League Division One North clash at Ship Lane.

Swifts had grabbed an early lead through George Cole, before Toner struck twice against his old club before the break. The hosts went on to complete a 3-1 victory thanks to a late Ross Glead goal.

There was drama at Burroughs Park where Great Wakering Rovers goalkeeper Adam Seal was sent off in the final minute for a professional foul. But the villagers were not to be denied a hard earned point from an eventful goalless draw with league leaders Cray Wanderers.

Daniel Glazier (penalty) and Emiel Aiken struck after the break as Tilbury picked up an impressive 2-1 victory at Phoenix Sports, and there was a win for Brightlingsea Regent by three goals to one over Romford.

Elsewhere Witham Town slipped to a 2-1 home defeat against Harlow Town.

In the Ryman Premier League new signing Merrick James-Lewis was on target for Canvey Island in their 1-1 draw with Tonbridge Angels at Park Lane, while Bradley Fortnam-Tomlinson and skipper Kenny Beaney grabbed Grays Athletic's goals in an entertaining 2-2 draw at Merstham.

The matches involving Billericay Town, Brentwood Town and East Thurrock United all fell foul of the weather.

Chelmsford City held a 2-1 lead at the break in their National League South clash with Weston-Super-Mare at the Melbourne Stadium, Billy Hunt and Bagasan Graham the men on target.

But Jacob Cane and Dayle Grubb (2) ensured the visitors left with the points, winning by the odd goal in five.

Selected action from the Essex Senior League saw Sawbridge-worth Town win by the odd goal in three against Clapton at the Old Spotted Dog, while there was a 3-1 win for Southend Manor over Stansted at Southchurch Park arena. And Enfield 1893's revival continued as they edged out Ilford 3-2.

It was the end of the road for FC Romania and Hullbridge Sports in the FA Vase. Romania went down 2-1 at home against Camberley Town, while Hullbridge lost by four goals to two at Berkhamstead.

The highlights from the ProKit UK Essex Olympian League were in the Premier Division, where Frenford Senior clinched a single goal victory at White Ensign, and there was a 5-1 win for Kelvedon Hatch at Newham FC. In Division One Old Chelmsfordians won 3-2 at Leigh Ramblers.

Bronze for Sarah and Havering Under 17 men at Claybury

Athletics

TEAM bronze for the Under 17 men and an individual Under 20 bronze for Sarah Wilson were the highlights of the Essex Cross Country Championships for the Under 17 and older age groups at Claybury on Saturday.

The Under 17 Men's bronze came courtesy of good runs from Ben Davis in 10th, Lewis Debenham (13th), 22nd placed Oliver Bath and Oliver Morter who completed the scoring four in 27th, with James Stewart one placed back and Kieran O'Hara 35th.

But the team will have to wait for their medals as due to an administrative error on the day Woodford were incorrectly awarded bronze medals.

Sarah Wilson won bronze in the Under 20 women's event and also automatic Essex selection for the Inter Counties Championships, but 6th placed Bella Woods must wait to see if she earns a discretionary places. Matt Braybrook continued his good season with another strong run to come home in ninth place; for the Under 20 Men though Abdul Mohammed found the going tough but still managed to stay the course in 13th. Tenth placed Lois Wyatt and Georgia Phillips in 12th competed in the Under 17 Girls race.

The Senior Men were unable to repeat their winning performance in the Essex League a week earlier, but despite missing key team members they still managed to put out a scoring team.

On a slippery course Rob Warner again led the team home in 21st place, not far behind in 25th with a good run was Paul Grange. Matt Bland was next home in 43rd, Ian Anthony had another fine run on his return in 55th.

The scoring team was completed by two runners who battled to be next home as Martin Chester in 64th got the better of Jason Crispin (66th), with Steve Walker completing the line-up in 115th.

The senior women were unable to defend their title but finished a strong fifth after runs by Alexa Joel in sixth, Vicky Smith (19th) with Robyn Matson seeing club action for the first time this winter in 32nd and Jo Sullivan 43rd.

■ Faye Fullerton marked her return to Great Britain colours with 15th place in chilly conditions at the Great Edinburgh Cross Country on Saturday.

After lying in 13th place for much of the 6k race Faye was overhauled on the closing lap to finish in the middle of the 30-strong field against international opposition.

Faye is in international action again next weekend as she represents England in much warmer conditions in the Bermuda 10k, where she partners Cardiff's Charlotte Arter who had an impressive run to place fifth in the Edinburgh event.
